KEY INFORMATION

Where you live is a big part of being at university, which is why Staffordshire is one of several universities that has signed-up to The Student Accommodation Code. The Code underpins our ongoing dedication to students to make sure you get the best out of your time living in our residences. The Code protects our students' rights to safe, good quality accommodation. It outlines everything students can expect from our accommodation as well as their responsibilities.

Full details of The Code are available on www.thesac.org.uk

RESLIFE

ResLife is here to support your accommodation journey by ensuring a safe living environment, promoting community building, providing enjoyable activities and events, supporting students and developing individual life skills.

ResLife is a dedicated team of professionals who want to ensure that all residents are supported and have an enriching living experience that contributes to academic success and social development.

ResLife Assistants (RLAs)

The RLAs are students who have lived experience of student accommodation, so they know exactly what it is like to be a resident.

The RLAs are here to give peer to peer advice and guidance, as well as hosting ResLife activities and events.

You will see your RLAs during regular drop-ins to your accommodation, and they can guide you to the correct places to get support and they can also feed back to other staff if there is a problem that needs looking into.

Out of Hours Wellbeing Advisor (OOH)

The OOH's are here to support you during crisis and look after your well being while you are in the accommodation. They work late in the evenings and overnight so you can reach them at any time for some support and guidance.

When are we open?

ResLife reception, Coalport

- 9:00am to 5:00pm Monday to Thursday
- 9:00am to 4:30pm on Friday
- Closed weekends and bank holidays

You can reach the out of hours team by calling +44 (0)1782 294837

Inventory

For residents living on-campus, once you've settled in, head to the ResLife portal and complete your room inventory. You'll have seven days to complete it but the sooner the better. Once you've submitted your inventory, the University will follow up any actions accordingly. If you notice anything seriously wrong with your room, report this on SOLVE (QR Code page nine) as soon as possible.

If you're living off-campus, you may be asked by the accommodation provider to complete an inventory when you move in. Make sure to complete and return this as requested.

FIRE SAFETY

If you hear the fire alarm, you should immediately make your way to the nearest fire exit and leave the building. Following the green fire exit signs and fire notices posted around your residence will lead you to the nearest exit. Even if you think it's a false alarm, you must leave the building immediately. Failure to observe the fire regulations can also result in disciplinary action being taken against you in line with the Accommodation Licence Agreement.

The Campus Safety & Security Service perform weekly checks every Wednesday from 11ams on the fire alarm system and semesterly fire evacuation drills. Your smoke detectors will be tested regularly as per government regulations.

There are a few simple ways you can help reduce the risk of fire and fire alarm activations:

- If you spot anything you think is wrong with any fire safety equipment, report it on SOLVE (QR Code, page 7) as soon as possible
- Make sure any personal electrical equipment is safe to use. If you're unsure, ask a member of the ResLife Team to check it
- Don't overload any electrical outlets – the most common mistake is “daisy-chaining” extension leads
- Don't use any equipment that produces a flame, steam, smoke or aerosol within your room/corridor; the smoke detectors are very sensitive

- don't store anything in the stairwells or corridors and make sure they are kept clear and tidy – anything left lying around could block emergency exit routes and could act as fuel for the fire.
- make sure doors are kept shut, especially in the kitchen. Keeping the door shut will stop any smoke produced from cooking from escaping into the corridor. All fire doors also act as a barrier and will protect the rest of the accommodation should there be a fire.
- make sure cooking equipment is kept clean and is safe to use.
- don't cover or tamper with any fire safety/fire alarm equipment – the fire panel knows instantly if detectors have been tampered with.

The greatest danger from a fire is not the fire itself, but the smoke, which spreads with great speed. To prevent the spread of smoke, fire doors are installed. Please do not wedge these doors open and make sure that you keep all the corridors clear of obstructions.

If items are found in your room or in the accommodation that are considered a fire risk (e.g. portable heaters, candles, deep fat fryers, faulty electrical items, or 3D Printers) these will be removed from the accommodation and safely stored off site by a member of staff. A card will be left notifying you that the item has been removed and will be available for you to either ship home or collect at the end of the Licence Agreement.

A - Z

We have created an easy A-Z guide on all things accommodation to help you with your stay.

Accidents

If you're unfortunate enough to have an accident in our accommodation, when it's safe to do so, let the Campus Safety and Security Service know. If, for whatever reason, you need to call an ambulance onto campus, make sure you let the Security Service know on their emergency line. The team can provide assistance and will guide the emergency services on-campus.

Campus Safety & Security Service:
01782 294444 (emergency line)
Or use the SafeZone App

Alcohol

We want to make sure you're safe when you're having fun. It's important to know your limits and keep your drinks close to you at all times. No-one should ever feel pressured to drink more than they can handle. It's perfectly fine to call it a night or move onto water when you've had enough.

If you require any support relating to your drinking habits, head to drinkaware.co.uk or see what support the University can offer by scanning the QR code for Student Support on page nine.

Anti-social behaviour

We've all had nuisance neighbours, and we know how much trouble they can cause. Don't let that be you: be respectful of your neighbours and accommodation community. If you're having some friction with a flatmate, let the ResLife Team know so they can provide support in resolving your issues.

You can also use the Resident Report Form to let us know about anything you think we should know. See page nine for the Report Form QR code or find it on the ResLife portal.

Access to students' rooms

While we have the right to access your room, out of consideration to you, we will endeavour to let you know at least 24 hours before we plan to visit your room, and we will always knock and alert you to our presence before entering. If, however, we believe there is an urgent need to access your room e.g. emergency maintenance or a wellbeing issue, we will enter your room to make sure that you and your belongings are safe.

B - C

Bicycles*

We have a number of bike stores around campus; some open racks, some closed sheds. Contact the ResLife Team to register your bike and get the code to the closed shed. Bikes must never be kept inside the accommodation, including in stairwells. No E-Scooters are permitted anywhere on site. E-bikes and E-bike batteries must not be charged inside accommodation.

Barbecues

Barbecues aren't allowed in your accommodation or on the campus due to the associated fire risks.

Cleaning

A clean flat is a happy flat! While you're staying with us, you and the rest of your flatmates have a responsibility to make sure your living environment is clean, tidy, and safe to live in. While living with us, you and your flatmates are responsible for the day-to-day cleaning of the communal areas. Flats that have a great record of cleanliness may even get a treat!

In your bedroom

- Make sure your bin is emptied regularly
- Don't leave dirty plates and cups lying around
- Give your room a good clean (hoover, wipe down surfaces) frequently
- Make sure there is nothing blocking the door or radiator in your room
- Don't store or use any kitchen equipment in bedrooms
- Don't prepare food in your bedroom

In the kitchen

- Clean up after yourself
- Wash any cooking equipment/utensils after use
- Give the floor a good hoover and mop regularly
- Empty the bins and recycling at least twice a week
- Wipe down surfaces as you go
- Don't let food go off in the fridge, and if it does, dispose of it as soon as possible
- Don't let things pile up! The quicker you deal with things, the less you have to worry about!

*this information is correct for on-campus accommodation. Check with the team at our off-campus accommodation for the most up to date and correct information.

In the bathroom

- Clean the toilets regularly
- Open windows to let the moisture out
- Keep plugholes free of hair
- Mop the floor regularly

If you need any tips or advice, speak to a member of the ResLife Team – they will be able to help you set out a cleaning schedule for the flat.

Cleaning Inspections

Formal cleaning inspections of communal areas will take place periodically. Keep your communal areas clean for a chance to win a prize for your flat/ house.

This will include checks of kitchens, living spaces and bathrooms.

We shall also complete a room inspection each semester, these inspections will be communicated when they will happen to ensure a residence can be available if they choose to be.

Cleaning Charges

Flats that are consistently unclean and not up to an acceptable and hygienic standard will be notified of this and given a reasonable time frame in which to improve standards.

Failure to meet acceptable standards will result in the Halls Assistants entering the flat to remove all rubbish and deep clean the communal areas. This deep clean will result in an additional charge to all residents of the flat.

The standard charge for this cleaning is £25 per hour (minimum of one hour)

These costs will vary dependent on the degree of cleaning required. Any rubbish to be disposed of will incur an extra charge per bag and labour which can range from £10-£30, plus one hour at stated rate.

An additional charge may also be added for hazardous waste to be removed from site.

You can avoid this by making sure you and your flatmates work together to keep your shared spaces neat and tidy, taking responsibility for your use of the kitchen and bathrooms, and cleaning as you go.

If you are worried about the condition of your flat and need to speak to someone, please don't wait, the faster you act, the quicker it can be dealt with. Reach out to the ResLife Team for advice and guidance. You can use the 'Resident Report Form' to let us know about your concerns. Find the link for the form on the ResLife Portal or scan the QR code on page nine.

Find out what is going on in your accommodation community by checking the events page on the ResLife portal.

Community

While you live with us, you are part of the ResLife community. This is your neighbourhood and together we can make it the best place to stay and create some great memories.

Take a look at some of the things we can get together and do.

Complaints

Hopefully, you'll never need to raise an issue concerning where you're living. However, if you do, there are steps to take that will help you get a satisfactory resolution. We'll settle most issues informally and fairly but, on a very small number of occasions, there may be a need to take complaints further. There's more information in your Staffordshire University Accommodation Code of Conduct, but here are the key steps:

1. Try to resolve things informally with your flatmates
2. If you are not satisfied with the resolution, contact ResLife at ResLife@staffs.ac.uk
3. If your issue is still not resolved, you can then begin the process of submitting a formal complaint via the Regulation and Compliance Team. Scan the 'Accommodation Complaints' QR code on page nine to get in touch

Confidentiality

We want to make sure you feel confident sharing information with our teams about your accommodation and any matters arising around where you're living. We will treat conversations as confidential unless there is a need to share information.

Council tax

All full-time students living in University-managed student accommodation are exempt from council tax. Make sure you keep your home address and current term-time address up to date on eVision. The Student Connect team can help you with this. Scan the 'Student Support' QR code on page nine to get in touch.

Code of conduct

If you haven't seen it already, make sure you're familiar with the Student Accommodation Code of Conduct which outlines all the important guidelines on how to behave in student accommodation. You can find this on the ResLife portal, or scan the 'Code of Conduct' QR code on page nine.

Depending on the outcome of any of our investigations, residents may be subject to disciplinary procedures.

More information about disciplinaries can be found in the Code of Conduct.

Damages*

If you damage anything within any University-managed accommodation, or notice anything that has been damaged, please report it as soon as possible. Don't put off reporting damage as there could be a possibility of more damage being caused as a result.

You can report damages via SOLVE. The link to SOLVE is on the ResLife portal, or you can scan the QR code on page nine.

In circumstances where a repair is required due to student damage (whether accidental or malicious) residents may be asked to pay for any charges that result from the damage. The common charges list will provide a guideline on the charges for replacing any damaged items. You can view the common charges list on the ResLife portal.

Doctors

It's really important for your health and wellbeing that you register with a local GP while you're staying in accommodation and living in a new town. You can view local services by scanning the Student Support QR code on page nine.

Drugs

University of Staffordshire has a zero-tolerance stance on drug use within University-managed accommodation. We will always investigate any reports of drug use with the help of the University Police Liaison Officer. For more detailed information about the use of drugs within accommodation, check the Code of Conduct.

Decorating

Your bedroom is your own personal space and a home from home and we encourage all the unique ways our residents decorate their rooms. Just make sure not to damage anything in your room or put any permanent fixings in place. You'll need to return the room back to how you found it for the next resident. We recommend not hanging or sticking items to the walls and ceilings, think about free standing items such as photo frames, art and home comforts instead.

*this information is correct for on-campus accommodation. Check with the team at our off-campus accommodation for the most up to date and correct information.

Emergencies

In an emergency, call 999 and request the appropriate emergency service. If it is then safe to do so, contact the Campus Safety & Security Service on 01782 294444 and let them know what's happened. You can also request assistance and get help using the SafeZone App. Scan the QR code on page nine to download it now.

Electoral register

Even if you're not interested in politics, it's a really good idea to register to vote. This would mean you could have your say about issues that affect you or that you feel strongly about. You can register to vote at gov.uk/register-to-vote.

Electrical equipment

All electrical equipment that you bring into University- managed accommodation needs to be electrically safe and must comply with British Safety Standards.

University will arrange a time for items to be subject to Portable Appliance Testing (PAT)

If your electrical items fail the PAT, you will not be able to take the item back to your accommodation. We can safely store items for you to collect when you return your keys and move out. If during our inspections, we find an item that is deemed to be unsafe, it will be removed from the accommodation and stored safely elsewhere for you to collect when you leave the accommodation. We will leave a card to let you know an item has been removed.

Energy

Your licence fee includes the cost of electricity and gas services. Make sure to turn appliances off when not in use to help reduce our carbon footprint. By being sensible about using power, you can help the University obtain our sustainability goals. So switch off lights and plugs when not in use, don't waste water, and turn you heating off when you are not in the room.

Fire alarms

Whenever the fire alarm goes off, whether genuine, false alarm or test, you must leave the building immediately and stay outside the building until you are told it's safe to re-enter. If the fire alarm goes off on-campus out-of-hours, you can give the Campus safety and security service a call and they will send someone over straight away if they haven't already.

Regular fire alarm testing takes places in the accommodation every Wednesday from 11am.

Health

Your health is really important to you and to us while you're studying and staying at the University. Don't let things go untreated or put off seeing a doctor. The quicker you react, the quicker you will recover and be back on top form.

Find a GP

Heating

Depending on where you're living, you will either have electric heaters or central heating. These outlets are often on timers to prevent energy wastage. You can set the temperature and how long you want the heat on for, but we strongly encourage you to be smart and sustainable and not waste energy. A room can be just as warm on 20°C as it would be on 21°C!

- Halls and Clarice have their own electric heaters that are controlled by you
- The heaters have a dial/button that you can use to control your own temperature within your room and the shared areas
- Houses are connected to gas boilers, and each radiator can be controlled by a Thermostatic radiator valve (TRV) which you will find on the side of your radiator
- The ideal room temperature is different for every person, and changes depending on humidity, clothing, and activity levels.

Your heater will stop producing heat when it reaches the desired temperature, but you can also use a digital thermometer to better track and manage your home's temperature too.

Contents insurance for your room is provided by Endsleigh. If you haven't already, you will need to confirm your cover by heading to the Endsleigh website.

Please do not bring deep fat fryers, and do not deep fry in pans.

If you're struggling and want help or just someone to talk to, you can get in touch with the student wellbeing team who will be able to advise on what support is available to you.

You can see what kind of support the university can offer by scanning the 'Student Support' QR code on page nine.

Noise

We want everyone to be comfortable, so ask that you keep the noise down at all times and especially between 11pm and 7am. SafeZone

As part of our duty of care to our University community, Staffordshire University has made the SafeZone app available to all our students. Our campuses are already very safe, but downloading SafeZone will give you extra reassurance that if needed, help is just the touch of a button away.

SafeZone is simple to use, and it's free. And at a touch of a button, it will let you summon first-aid, security, or safety assistance via your mobile phone or PC.

The app allows you to alert our university Campus Safety and Security Service via your smartphone if you ever need urgent assistance or first aid, or if you have an emergency while on campus. If you are off campus, it will alert the police for you, ensuring help will be on hand soon.

You can download SafeZone on iPhone/iPad, Android, and Windows Phone. Scan the QR code on page nine to download now.

Security and Safety

Your personal safety is really important to us, and we want to make you feel safe while you're in your accommodation or on campus.

We have lots of tips to ensure you are safe while you are with us:

- Always carry your keys and keep them safe. Never give your keys to anyone else
- Only let people you know into the residences. Don't let anybody tailgate you
- Make sure your windows are closed before you leave
- Lock your doors. Even if you're just heading down the hall
- Keep your valuables out of sight. Don't leave anything of worth where people can see them
- Always keep an eye on your stuff. Especially when using larger areas with more students, such as the library
- Be mindful when going out. Make sure you have a plan of how you're getting home, charge your phone and stick with your friends

Welcome Talks

During your first week living on campus, we require you to attend a welcome talk for your area. These are scheduled in advance and you'll find the timetable for your welcome talk on the next page.

It is mandatory that all residents attend this talk, and you will be required to sign in to prove your attendance.

The welcome talk will cover all kinds of information, health and safety guidance, and how to really get started on living in your accommodation.

Any residents that do not attend will be required to attend a make up talk at a later date.

Windows

Make sure that your windows are shut and secure every time you leave your room. Although we wouldn't recommend that you dry clothes in your room, if you do, please open your window to avoid mould and damp.

Waste

Each resident is responsible for the removal of their own personal recycling and communal waste and recycling within your flat.

Two bins will be provided in your flat. One for household waste and the other for dry mixed recyclables. Recycling must always be disposed of in clear bags. Black bags containing recyclable waste will not be recycled so it is important to ensure you are using the correct bags for recycling and general waste.

There is a designated compound near to each building which has colour coded bins for waste and recycling. Make sure to separate your recycling correct into the different bins.

Dates and times of bin collections are posted on the bin compounds.
